

INGENUITY SYSTEMS ANNOUNCES NEW DISTRIBUTOR IN TAIWAN

Redwood City, CA – March 9, 2010 – Ingenuity Systems, the leading provider of information solutions for life science researchers, today announced Molecule Scientific Company., Ltd. as the exclusive distributor of IPA® in Taiwan.

“Molecule Scientific’s expertise in life sciences and local presence in Taiwan will facilitate the growing adoption of IPA in Taiwan and the Asia Pacific region,” stated Sean Scott, Senior Vice President, Commercial Operations, Ingenuity Systems. “IPA is currently used at several leading universities in this area and through this partnership we can better address the growing demand from researchers in the Pharmaceutical and Academic environments who request IPA for a wide range of research initiatives including identifying and validating biomarkers, understanding mechanisms behind differential response to drugs, and elucidating biological mechanisms of drug action and toxicity.”

Dr. Pei-Li Li, Vice President, Molecule Scientific Company, Ltd., stated, “IPA is a powerful addition to the Molecule Scientific portfolio. We are pleased to be able to provide our customers with the ability to design their experiments, generate hypotheses, and analyze their data using the detailed, timely, and high-quality information in IPA.”
